Submission Link: <https://bit.ly/24-25TPL>

- Poems may be in any style or form but may not exceed a total of ten pages.
- Poems must be the original creative work of the poet. Plagiarism will result in immediate disqualification from this and all future Teen Poet Laureate opportunities.

IF SELECTED, POET:

- Must be available for up to four public appearances throughout the county. (Transportation available upon request.)
- Must be enrolled in high school or adult school at time of submission.
- Must attest that their work is solely their own original creative work.

Selected Regional Teen Poet Laureate and runners up will be published in a limited-edition commemorative chapbook. Selected entries will also be published in the all-teen issue of Inlandia: A Literary Journey, the online literary journal of the Inlandia Institute.

Poetry will be judged by a diverse panel of professional, published poets.

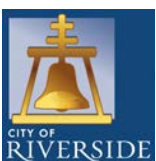

JANE BLOCK PRIZE FOR ENVIRONMENTALIST TEEN POETRY

Additional prize consideration will be extended for submitted poems that engage with environmentalist themes. Jane Block Prize winners will be invited to read an annual gala hosted by Rivers and Lands Conservancy and other opportunities, in collaboration with the Environmental Education Collaborative, two organizations with which Jane Block was deeply involved.

Jane Block has been recognized by many institutions for her work as an environmentalist, feminist, and children's services activist. She is associated with the adoption of the Western Riverside County Multiple Species Habitat Conservation Plan, the preservation of the Santa Rosa Plateau, Box Springs Mountain Park, and Sycamore Canyon Park.

Inlandia Institute and the Riverside County Office of Education are pleased to present this additional prize opportunity for teens engaging with nature and the environment through their original poetry.
